A meeting of prominent members of the Democratic party was held at the residence of J. Milton Unanget on Friday night to outline a plan of action for the coming presidential campaign.

An over indulgence in black muscels on the part of an expectant bridegroom, is said to have caused the postponement of a wedding between two well-known colored citizens of Bloomfield last Monday.

The colored gentleman who is so deeply interested in the welfare of certain churches does not seem to be at all deterred in his work by his exposure as a fraud. He called at several houses last week.

Mrs. Sophie Fritz, mother of H. & C. G. Fritz, the well-known builders, died at her residence on the neighborhood of Prospect street on Monday afternoon. As soon as it was rumored abroad there were as many gunners in search of them.

Mr. Walter Ferris buggy collided with a cart belonging to Peter Finlan on Ridgewood Avenue near North Park street on Wednesday. The cart was driven by a boy who apparently did not know how to manage his horse. The damage to the buggy will cost twenty dollars to repair.

There was a well attended meeting of the Fairview Literary Association held at the residence of Mr. Charles L. Seibert on Thursday night. Many invited guests were present. The musical and literary exercises were very entertaining. A bountiful repast was served by the host and hostess.

The Bloomfield police were led a lively chase after the 12 year old son of Mr. Knapp, whom his mother reported to be running away from home on Thursday night. They went as far as Brookdale road, where he was subsequently arrested.

Bach, Beethoven, Wagner, Meyerbeer, and Adolphine Adam. The soloist will be Mr. G. A. Bruen, organist, Miss Lucy Nelson, soprano and Mr. R. E. Strin, basso. The first recital takes place to-day.

Several prominent gentlemen of Bloomfield and Montclair have presented to the Roseville Athletic Association a handsome gold-tipped ebony cue, enclosed in a beautiful scarlet plush case. On a tablet on the cue was this inscription: "To the Roseville Athletic Association in recognition of the courtesies extended to friends from Bloomfield and Montclair during the great storm of March 12, 1888."

James H. Noon, a well-known resident, died at his home on Hickory street, Tuesday morning after a lingering illness of several years duration. He was a member of the Bloomfield Hat Finishers' Association and the Young Men's Catholic Union. The funeral services were held on Thursday morning in the Church of the Sacred Heart. There was a large attendance. Interment took place at Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

The coal dealers of Bloomfield have decided upon a reduction in prices, to take effect from May 1st. After that time the prices for the best Lehigh stove, nut and egg, will be $5.50 per ton, $2.75 per half-ton, and $1.50 per quarter ton, delivered. These prices are the same as were earlier. The wholesale price of coal is about twenty-five cents higher. All the dealers are now receiving shipments by canal of the best Lehigh coal.

One of the first matters to which the attention of the new Board of Freeholders will be directed, is the erection of an addition to the County Insane Asylum on South Orange avenue. $70,000 is the amount estimated for the cost of the new addition. The county has 68 patients in the State Asylum whose cost of maintenance is $3.33 per week while the cost, at the County Institution is $1.60 each. This speaks well for the management in the County Institution.

The hotel and saloon keepers of Bloomfield met at Wm. J. Raab's on Tuesday afternoon to discuss business matters connected with their business. It is proposed to form a permanent organization. A letter was received from a saloon man of Montclair desiring to unite with the Bloomfield folks in this matter. It was decided to decline this proposition. The question of Sunday closing was discussed at length. The absence of several men most deeply interested prevented any definite action being taken on the part of those present. The preponderance of sentiment favored closing their places absolutely on Sundays.

Stories of frequent displays of rowdism witnessed on the late cars of the Essex Passenger Railway between Newark and Bloomfield, have made the more respectable portion of the community a little timid about traveling over the line late at night. Another of those disgraceful affairs took place last Sunday night. A crowd of drunken young men boarded the 10:30 P. M. car to Bloomfield at the station and on the way up yelled boisterously and indulged in various other species of rowdism. On reaching the terminus of the line at Liberty street, they proceeded up Bloomfield avenue and found amusement in throwing stones at the residences, breaking fences, and other malicious mischief.

The business of the Bloomfield Post Office has increased sufficiently during the past year to allow Post Master Brown an increase of salary. The amount of business now is between seven and eight thousand dollars per annum. By a concentrated effort on the part of residents of Montclair the business of their Post Office has been bolstered up to ten thousand dollars per annum, and that town is now entitled to the free delivery system. Post Master Brown says that the thing might be done in Bloomfield if the same tactics were adopted. After the system was once obtained sub-offices could be established in outlying places, and thereby make the free delivery system of practical benefit to the thickly populated portion of the place.

The members of the Silver Lake Improvement Association have discovered a document that bears record of a distinct understanding between the New York and Greenwood Lake Railroad, and Mr. Wakeman, through whose property the road runs, that right of way was obtained on condition that the railroad place a building on the road at a depot to be built there. It is now twelve years since the road began operations and nothing has been done. The Association recently addressed a letter to the officials of the road calling attention to this agreement. The reply received to this letter was deemed rather insolent. The Association is now as saying that they would send out a few boards and erect a structure that would afford protection from the rain after the manner of the ingenious idea of the city of Soho. The residents will resent this interference on the part of the Company by going out of their way to patronize another road.

Considerable excitement prevailed on Thursday morning when it was discovered that a gang of burglars had been playing an unusual amount of industry through the previous night. Mr. Nicholas Snider's barber shop was broken into and the contents of the drawers and boxes were stolen. The thieves failed to gain an entrance. Mr. Drew's fish market was broken into and a new money drawer which had been recently put in was broken open and the trifling amount it contained taken. The store of Baldwin Bros. on Upper Broad street was entered the same night. The thieves succeeded in effecting an entrance by prying open the door. They searched the place for money, securing about six dollars that had been left in one of the tills. This was probably the last place visited, as the thief had been well left there.

The undersigned extends his hearty thanks to the members of Phoenix Hose Company No. 1, and especially to Mrs. Howard Spear for her kindness and hospitality rendered to me at the time of the injuries I received at the last fire.

It is rumored that the red fox recently shot in the woods near Silver Lake has dwindled down to a squirrel of the above mentioned color.

Thomas Flannery is having the house on the corner of Orange and Peloubet streets painted and put in order. Flannery intends putting a flag walk in front of his property at this place.

A large number of poorly executed five cent pieces have been put in circulation. The number of these spurious coins is said to be unusually large in the vicinity of Newark and it is thought they are being manufactured there.

A well attended meeting of the Hat Finishers was held on Monday at Elor, Hampson & Co's shop, to consider the question of sending delegates to the National Convention at Brooklyn. It was decided not to send any.

At the Methodist Episcopal Church, to-morrow, the 29th, Rev. John A. Munroe's subject of discourse in the morning will be Christ's Crucifixion, the demonstration of Divine Justice as well as of Divine Love, and in the evening, The recognition of friends in heaven.

Much interest is being manifested in baseball matters. It is thought the match to-day will decide whether Watessing will have a club or not. Should the club be organized as proposed, it is thought that they will give the Roseville, Montclair and Belleville clubs a close rub for the amateur championship of the county.

The many friends of Mr. Francis Lawrence will feel grieved to learn of his precarious condition. His friends received a summons to his bedside Monday as his illness had assumed alarming proportions. He is now in Ontario, Canada, where his sister, Miss Emma Lawrence has gone to attend him.

A parrot which formerly belonged to Mrs. James Wood of Petersburg, Va., and which was noted for its wonderful linguistic powers, on the occasion of the recent death of Mrs. Wood was sent to Mrs. Emily Crane of Grove street. It died on Wednesday. The bird is thought to have died of a broken heart, as it had never been heard to utter a syllable since its arrival in Bloomfield.

Mrs. Annie Bolton died at her residence on Willow street, last Sunday. The family which consisted of father, mother and five children, were reported to be in destitute circumstances, and the ladies of St. Paul's P. E. Church went about soliciting aid for them with the intention of giving the deceased a decent interment. Subsequent developments revealed the fact that relatives of the deceased were able to attend to the funeral and it was taken in charge by a Newark undertaker on their order. It was then decided to devote the money collected to the children, and a proposition was made to the father to have the children removed to the Orphan Asylum. He objected to this, saying that he could take care of them. It is not definitely known as yet what disposition will be made of the funds.

A new Montclair paper made its first appearance among us last week. We refrained from expressing any opinion with regard to it, for the simple reason that we would have felt called upon to speak the truth, and that would have led some to infer that we were lacking in charity. That the editor, manager or reporter (whatever title the responsible person connected with the sheet may assume) was one who stood at the head of his estimation was apparent from the tone of the opening address. The fact that he was able to give away the whole of his first issue has led to further speculation as to his opinion of himself and in his second issue he proceeds to make disparaging reflections on both the Montclair Times and the Bloomfield Citizen. The former he thinks lacks enterprise and the latter possesses a "moribund" disposition. Speaking for our column in the paper perhaps we are guilty of the charge. We have no objection to the opinion that a few years experience in the newspaper business in either Bloomfield or Montclair will weary the soaring wings of the register's enterprising manager and have a tendency to throw a sallow of melancholy over his buoyant hopes.

J. B. Republican Primary.

The Republican Primary meeting will be held at Dodd's Hall on Monday evening, April 30th, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of electing delegates to the State and district conventions.

By order of Committee:
W. S. FREEMAN

Amusement Notes.

"The Highest Bidder," with E. H. Sothman as the auctioneer, and Mr. Frohman's Lyceum Company, is attracting large and refined audiences at Miners Newark Theatre this week.

On Monday next Steele Mackaye's already famous drama of the French Revolution, "Paul Kaurer," will be brought out here under Mr. Miner's management, being its first production since its phenomenal run in New York before a select audience to the date of its recent withdrawal. As a play compared with most of those written at the present day that "take," "Paul Kaurer" stands unique. It towers pre-eminent in all that constitutes a successful and great moral drama. The lessons it vividly conveys, in the most interesting and stirring scenes are those of love and duty, as related to friend, kindred and country, contrasted with the brutal affections of blind aristocracy and baser mobocracy, which are depicted in such a manner as to point the moral keenly, by making the audience feel the truth of the world's social problem, and suggestive of its wise solution, than as affording a passing hour's amusement.
